There is nothing more rewarding than being able to help others and today I was able to do that. Thanks to STPS Police Services Board (Chair Dan Reith, Vice-Chair Scott Birkby, Mayor Joe Preston, Councilor Jim Herbert and Past Chair Dave Warden) I was able to donate $500 and a PSD Axle Puppy to Daniel Kress and his family so they can purchase a Service Dog. We are a St. Thomas Proud Community and it was awesome to hear about the support that the family has received so far.

Welcome!

Lots of new faces here at the St. Thomas Police Service. Our newest members were introduced at the Police Service Board meeting on Tuesday. (L-R)

Cadet Spencer Damstra

Cadet Erik Kvietys

Cadet Khloe Beer and

Constable Mathieu Levesque

Please join us in extending a warm welcome to the St. Thomas Police Service work family. We wish them all a happy, healthy career!

Chief's Commendation

We are grateful for the community dedication of OPP Officer Remi Wasilewski. Constable Wasilewski disarmed a knife wielding man on Talbot Street back in March. He is an Officer with the Elgin Detachment and off duty at the time of the incident but did not hesitate to assist. He was acknowledged for his brave actions at the Police Services Board Meeting Tuesday morning.
Thank you Constable Remi Wasilewski.

Surge in mental health calls to police among pandemic's impacts: Officials
The number of calls to St. Thomas police for mental health reasons nearly doubled in the first year of the pandemic, a new report by Southwestern Public Health shows.

The number of calls to St. Thomas police for mental health reasons nearly doubled in the first year of the pandemic, a new report by Southwestern Public Health shows. The report, released by the health unit for St. Thomas, Woodstock and Oxford and Elgin counties, gives an indication of a variety of indirect impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on mental health, opioid emergencies and unemployment in the region.

St. Thomas police officers responded to 2,200 mental health calls in 2020, a nearly 70 per cent increase from the roughly 1,300 calls received in recent years pre-pandemic, the report shows.

The numbers are consistent with a broader trend of increasing mental health calls from 2018 to 2021, said Chris Herridge, the city's police chief.

"That is no doubt concerning," he said. "There is some association with the pandemic.

However, a lot of the mental health we deal with here in St. Thomas is connected to the social determinants of health, being poverty, homelessness, mental health and substance use disorder."

Herridge pointed to different initiatives the force and local agencies have introduced in recent years to help meet the growing need for mental health services. But even programs such as the force's mobile outreach support team that consists of two Canadian Mental Health Association workers are not enough, he said.

"Police officers do a great job of dealing with mental health calls, but we're not experts in mental health. We're not experts in addictions. We are experts in the core functions of policing," Herridge said. "This collaboration is needed more than what we have."

With limited resources and provincial funding — something for which Herridge and others continue to push — the outreach team can respond to only about 40 per cent of mental health-related calls, he said.

The health unit report noted mental health calls to Oxford and Elgin provincial police also increased during the pandemic. "What was interesting is that the other calls didn't increase the way the mental health calls did," said Carolyn Richards, epidemiologist and manager of the health unit's foundational standards program.

Though overall hospital visits declined at the start of the pandemic, Southwestern Public Health officials found there was an increase in the number of people between the ages of 35 and 64 visiting the emergency room for opioid use. The goal of the report is to help area partners prepare for emergency situations and post-pandemic recovery, Richards said.

“For us,” she said, “it’s about having this available to the health unit and to partners to be able to plan how they’ll respond in the future and fill the gaps in recovery.”

Other key findings from the report are:

- The unemployment rate in St. Thomas and Oxford and Elgin counties hit an average of nine per cent in 2020, with the rates of between 12 and 17 per cent from April to June. That’s up from the roughly six per cent jobless rate before the pandemic.
- Business bankruptcies increased during the first year of the pandemic.
- There were fewer hospital visits for all reasons except self-harm during the first half of the pandemic, largely due to fears of catching COVID-19 in hospital and putting added strain on hospitals.
- In Oxford, there was a jump in the number of sharps returned to the health unit’s needle and syringe program.

Human Trafficking Investigation Continues, More Victims Come Forward and More Charges are Laid.

On the 27th of May 2021, The St Thomas Police Service arrested 59 year old Eugene Francois at his Talbot Street address for offences including trafficking a person under the age of 18, sexual assault and sexual exploitation in relation to a woman reportedly being trafficked by Francois in 2013 while a minor.

A search warrant was conducted at Francois’s residence seeking evidence of the above offences and a number of devices were seized on the authority of the warrant. This was the largest seizure of computers and devices in the history of the service.

During a year long investigation and analysis of the devices, it was determined that Francois had been filming female victims in his apartment without their knowledge or consent. Francois operated a popular music studio that offered music and recording lessons and a number of female victims had been captured on video- some victims being underage. At this time an additional 16 charges have been laid in relation to 10 victims that include voyeurism, making child pornography and possession of child pornography.

Police have processed thousands of images and have discovered several victims that have yet to be identified.

If you are a female who attended the residence of Eugene Francois between 2009 and May of 2021 the St. Thomas Police urge you to please contact our Criminal Investigation Branch if you have not already.

You may speak directly and confidentially to:

Incidents of Note:

Assault Police

A twenty four year old woman of no fixed address was arrested Monday after officers were called to a disturbance on Princess Avenue. During the arrest the woman struck and spat on an Officer. She was transported to the Colin McGregor Building where Police seized a small amount of Crystal Methamphetamine from the woman. As a result she was charged with one count Assault Police and one count Drug Possession. ^10296

Sexual Assault

A forty four year old St. Thomas man was arrested and charged with Sexual Assault Monday after he turned himself in at the Colin McGregor Building. The man is alleged to have sexually assaulted a teen male at his home. He was taken into custody without incident for processing and later released on an Undertaking with court date. ^10326

Arrests Made in Local Grandparent Scam

Two men from Montreal were arrested and charged with Fraud Over $5000 after attempting to scam a St. Thomas couple for $10 000 using the "Grandparent Scam". Gabriel Knezevitch (20) and Nazaire Cherubin (20) were taken into custody without incident during a traffic stop. The pair had contacted a St. Thomas couple claiming their nephew had been arrested and required bail money. The couple were taken by surprise and did withdraw a large sum of money from the bank only to have second thoughts. Police were contacted and Officers from the Criminal Investigations Branch were able to coordinate the arrest of the suspects. Officers on Community Patrol stopped the suspect vehicle after it attended the home to pick up the money. The two men were transported to the Colin McGregor Building for processing and held for a court appearance. The best approach when receiving a scam call like this is to hang up. ## Scam Alert

A couple in their eighties have lost $17,000 in an online Bit Coin scam. The victims believed they bought $250 worth of Bit Coin back in January from a verified online site based in England (red flag). The victim was contacted in April and advised his $250 investment had ballooned to over $17,000 (red flag). The scammer instructed the victim to download an app to his computer and insert his banking information so the funds could be transferred back into his account (red flag). That never happened. Instead several withdrawals were made over several months. (first withdrawal=red flag) Each time a person would call the victims with some kind of explanation usually blaming the missing money on "processing fees". Please protect yourself and your money. Visit www.antifraudcentre.ca for more details on regularly circulating scams. Talk to your family about scams today. Watch for the red flags.....if it sounds too good to be true it probably is.

To Note a speed sign has been deployed on Stanley at Margret St.

This project is for Aggressive and Distracted Driving, and has been put in place for a city wide project to continue with traffic safety maintenance addressing these issues. These Projects will run for the next three weeks.

STPS Partner with Timea's Cause

Timea's Cause is a sustainable advocacy and educational center. Their mission is to build a global survivor led human trafficking detection educational center for the private and public sector. With funding announced earlier this year made possible through a Community Safety and Policing Grant – Provincial Stream, the St. Thomas Police Service will be able to enhance training for staff and community partners.

The grant called for the development of collaborative new partnerships in the community in efforts to support police services as they implement public safety initiatives. Specifically, the grant aims to provide police services with the necessary tool and resources to enable the deployment of front-line police officers when and where they are needed most. The Timea's Choice online institute provides Human Trafficking Detection and Compliance Training to both law enforcement and service providers. Through this online learning, individuals serving the public will learn to detect and intervene where they suspect human trafficking is occurring.

This joint effort is one more initiative where the St. Thomas Police Service will work towards making substantial progress to support survivors and eradicate human trafficking. For more information visit www.tconlineinstitute.com

From the Street Crime Unit

Fifty six year old Wayne Mielke of St. Thomas was arrested and charged for several offences following an investigation into illegal activity by the St. Thomas Police Service. Members of the Street Crime Unit and Property Crime Unit executed a search warrant early Friday morning at a Talbot Street apartment. Police seized a twelve gauge shotgun with ammunition, butterfly knife, cocaine, Crystal Methamphetamine, Hydromorphone, Cannabis extract, cash, scales and processing equipment. As a result, Mielke was charged with Possession for the Purpose of Trafficking x3, Unauthorized Possession of a Firearm, Careless Storage of a Firearm, Possess Firearm Contrary to Prohibition Order x4, Possess of Cannabis for the Purpose of Distribution, Unauthorized Possession of a Weapon. The total street value of drugs seized is $35,000. Mielke was taken into custody without incident and transported to the Colin McGregor Building for processing. He was held for a bail court appearance.

The St. Thomas Police Service would like to thank the OPP Tactics and Rescue Unit for their assistance during the execution of the search warrant.

August

Local Pride Celebrated in August

Happy Pride St Thomas-Elgin!
We wish all our LGBTQS+ friends and family an amazing week! Diversity within our service and our community is our greatest asset!! 🏳️‍🌈

Constable Yasmine Arabi was officially sworn into service this morning by Justice G. Donald. Deputy Chief Marc Roskamp presented her badge. Congratulations Yasmine!

Arson

On the 3rd of August the St. Thomas Police began an Arson investigation into a suspicious fire to an abandoned building on Walnut St. Through investigation, canvassing the neighbourhood, and reviewing nearby video – Officers were able to identify 38 year old Joseph Penfound as being responsible. The building, which was already scheduled to be demolished, has since been torn down. Fortunately there were no injuries sustained as a result of the fire. Penfound was charged with one count of Arson, arrested, and was held at the Colin McGregor Justice Building pending a court appearance.

Sentencing in Downtown Assault

Thirty three year old Jeremy Porter of St. Thomas was sentenced to 189 days in custody during a court appearance today. In April of 2022 Officers on Community Patrol arrested Porter after he was alleged to have thrown a rock at a vehicle travelling down Talbot Street and subsequently assaulted the driver with a sharpened stick when the driver stopped to assess the damage. The driver was transported to hospital by ambulance. Police charged Porter with eleven offences, Possession of a Weapon for Dangerous Purpose, Aggravated Assault, Uttering Threats to Cause Death, Mischief Under $5000, Fail to Comply with Release Order and six counts of Fail to Comply with Probation Order. Porter pled guilty to one count of Mischief Under $5000 and Assault Cause Bodily Harm. The other charges were withdrawn.

Scam Alert

A seventy six year old St. Thomas man has been scammed out of $9000 after falling victim to the grandparent scam. The man was awoken suddenly by a middle of the night call where he was told by someone posing as a lawyer that his grandson had been involved in a collision and needed nine thousand dollars cash to be released by police. The lawyer had also conveniently arranged for a "court bailiff" to attend the residence and pick up the money. The man attended the bank in the morning, withdrew the money and handed it over to a woman driving a black SUV who attended his residence that afternoon.

To all the grandparents out there who want to keep their grandchildren safe.....please know that this is not how the Canadian Court System works. Even if your grandchild was charged with an offence IN ANY JURISDICTION and needed bail money, the money would have to be submitted at the court house. INSIDE the courthouse to a clerk from the Ministry of the Attorney General. No bail can be collected in cash at your house. If you get this call. Your first step is to call your grandchild. Reach out and see if you can get ahold of them. If you can't, start calling everyone in your family to see where they are. PLEASE if you ever have any questions...reach out to us here at the St. Thomas Police Service 519-631-1224 or visit www.antifraudcentre.ca for more info on regularly circulating scams. ## POLICE SEARCH WARRANT RESULTS IN LARGE SEIZURE

On Tuesday August 23rd, the St. Thomas Police Service was able to effectively disrupt a hot spot for criminal activity in a residence near our downtown core.

As a result of a lengthy probe, members from the St. Thomas Police Services Street Crime and Property Crime Units executed a search warrant at a residence on Princess Avenue Tuesday morning. Officers arrested several individuals, seized illicit drugs, weapons and recovered an estimated $25,000 worth of suspected stolen property. The following individuals have been arrested and charged with the following offences:

Fifty year old Philip Arthur Zellman:

Three counts of Possession of firearm or ammunition contrary to Prohibition Order

Knowledge of unauthorized possession of a weapon

Two counts of possession of property obtained by crime under $5000

One count Drug Possession – Fentanyl

Twenty six year old Philip John Paul Zellman Jr.:

Fail to comply with Probation

Knowledge of unauthorized possession of a weapon

Two counts of possession of property obtained by crime under $5000

Forty seven year old Jason Robert Young:

Knowledge of unauthorized possession of a weapon

Two counts of possession of property obtained by crime under $5000

Forty four year old John Edward Joseph MacIntyre:

Knowledge of unauthorized possession of a weapon

Two counts of possession of property obtained by crime under $5000

One count drug possession – Fentanyl

All four men were taken into custody without incident and transported to the Colin McGregor Building for processing.

They were held in custody for a bail court appearance. The investigation continues with the identification of owners pertaining to the seized property. Further criminal charges are pending.

“We anticipate that this action will send a strong message to the several individuals now charged with numerous criminal offences, and to those that want to continue victimizing our community through property crime offences. We will hold you accountable. From a policing perspective, there are real challenges in piecing together the requisite information needed to legally justify police actions to this level. We feel it is important that the community knows, your support on the many social media feeds was well-noted, and our attention has been intently focused on consistently gathering intelligence and piecing together this investigation for weeks. This has been a collaborative effort and we thank the community for your assistance” says Deputy Chief Marc Roskamp.

Theft by Power of Attorney

A thirty five year old London man wanted by St. Thomas Police was arrested Thursday after he turned himself in at the Colin McGregor Justice Building. The man is alleged to have stolen over fifty thousand dollars from his father while acting as his financial power of attorney.

Police were notified after rent at the father's long term care facility had not been paid and staff suspected elder financial abuse. Detectives from the Criminal Investigations Branch opened an investigation that revealed funds had been misappropriated as far back as 2020.

The man was taken into custody without incident for processing. He was charged with one count of Theft by Person Holding Power of Attorney Over $5000 and later released on an Undertaking. He will appear in court at a later date to answer to the charge.

The Citizens on Patrol (COP) program provides a visible presence in the community while fostering partnerships with St. Thomas Police Services, local businesses and residential areas, to identify and expand opportunities to deter criminal activity and reduce crime. COP volunteers will be goodwill ambassadors and foster positive contact with members of the community. They will also act as non-confrontational observers and report suspicious behaviour.

Their mission is to be non-intrusive, trained civilian eyes and ears of the St. Thomas Police Service, contributing to the overall safety and wellness of the City of St. Thomas. This program does not promote, require or ask for any involvement of members in the apprehension of criminals. The purpose is solely to observe and report.

SUPERSTAR KIDS!

The St. Thomas Police Service would like to give a very special thank you to..... Six year old TYLER and his ten year old sister NOELLE! These kids emptied their piggy bank at grandma's house and were asked what they wanted to do with the money. The kids chose to go buy gift cards at Shoppers Drug Mart, Tim Hortons and McDonalds to help the homeless. Grandma and Grandpa brought them to the police station today to give the cards to the police to hand out to people in need.

Staff Sergeant Mike Buttinger was pleased to accept the cards and carry out the kid's wishes. Thank you TYLER AND NOELLE! We think you are awesome!

Grateful

Every time we head out to promote a cause or lend support, our community leaves us speechless with their generosity. Thank you St Thomas for helping us make back to school a little easier on parents and a lot more fun for students. Special thanks to our sponsor Doug Tarry Homes

The St. Thomas Police Service partnered with Big Brothers Big Sisters St. Thomas-Elgin to host Kids and Cops Camp for the first time in three years! The kids enjoyed a week of activity focusing on healthy relationships, problem solving and building resiliency. The camp was run by Constable Katherine McNeil and Barb Matthews. A huge thank you to both of them. The impact they have on these youngsters will last a lifetime.
